About

I make financial data easier to understand and easier to act on.

I am a PGDM Finance & Business Analytics student at the School of Innovation and Management, Hyderabad. Before my PGDM I worked for 11 months in a bank's corporate securities operations team, where accuracy and compliance were part of every day.

- Reconciled 300+ corporate account transactions a month and cut open discrepancies by 40%
- Built a feasibility and project-economics model with a five-year projection and break-even analysis
- Analysed a listed consumer company's financial statements using ratio and DuPont analysis
- Built an Excel and Power BI dashboard tracking revenue, cost and variance against budget

Looking for: Financial Analyst, FP&A, Credit Analyst or Business Analyst roles where careful analysis supports business decisions.

Let's connect, or write to me at divya.nambiar@email.com.

Three questions I now ask before building any financial model:

1. What decision will this model support?
2. Which three assumptions drive 80% of the result?
3. What happens to the answer if those assumptions are 20% worse?

A clean spreadsheet is not the goal. A decision someone can trust is. What do you ask before you build?
